Article 12 : Litigation & Claims

This regulation is governed by French law.

"The organizer" reserves the right to decide without appeal any difficulty which may arise as to the interpretation or application of this regulation, given that no dispute will be admitted regarding the terms of the game, the results, the prizes or their reception, one month after the end of the game. Except in clear cases of errors, it is agreed that the information resulting from the systems of "the organizer" have probative value in any dispute pertaining to the connection and computer processing of such information relating to the game.

All claims must be made to "the organizer" within one month of the end date of the game. After this date, no claims will be accepted. Participation in the game implies full acceptance of these rules.

Article 13 : Agreement on Proof

By express agreement between the participant and "the organizer," only "the organizer's" systems and computer files will be legally binding.

The digitized records stored in the "the organizer's" computer systems in reasonable conditions for safety and reliability are considered evidence of relationships and communication between "the organizer" and the participant.

It is therefore agreed that, absent manifest error, “the organizer” may, notably for evidence of any act done or omission, rely on data, files, records, operations, and other times (such as monitoring or other reports), be they physical or in a computer or electronic format or medium, that have been received or directly or indirectly held by “the organizer,” notably in its computer systems.

The items considered thus constitute proofs and, should they be produced as proofs by “the organizer” in any contentious or other procedure, they will be admissible, valid, and enforceable between the parties in the same way, in the same condition, and with the same force as any document created, received, or held in writing.

Operations of any kind made using the user name and password assigned to a participant after registration are irrefutably presumed to have been made under the responsibility of the participant.

The filing of these contest rules was done through the website: <http://www.reglementdejeu.com>.
